

KITCHENAID BAKEWARE

For Delicious Pastries

HAMBURG, FEBRUARY 2015. KitchenAid introduces three product novelties within its premium bakeware collection. The range of 13 baking dishes is extended by a ring form, a set of two baking trays and an easy glide baking sheet. This makes baking even more enjoyable now.

Designed together with professional chefs, the KitchenAid products meet all expectations in both quality and performance. The durable, high performance bakeware metal is designed to ensure perfect results with every mixture, be it dough, or batter, tasty tarte tatins, delicate pies or home-made pizza. The professional-weight steel base with heat-conducting aluminum surface ensures the best browning effect for any mixture. All products are heat and corrosion-resistant.
